

Hikmet Emre Yüncü

About Me

I'm an Economics student at Bahçeşehir University looking for a internship where I can use my analytical, organisational, and communicational skills. I have a strong interest in financial markets, corporate finance, and behavioral finance, with a particular focus on decision-making, risk perception, and investor psychology. With a solid quantitative background and a deep curiosity about how individuals and markets behave, I aim to combine analytical thinking with behavioral insight. I am eager to gain hands-on experience, strengthen my technical skills, and contribute with discipline, responsibility, and a strong willingness to learn.
